

Glendora Press HIGHLANDER

Volume XXXIV, No. 29

January 5, 2006

Cutting edge of compassion

If looking better is one of your New Year's resolutions, here's one way you can cross that item off the list and also help a worthy cause.

The staff at the China Clipper salon is offering haircuts, waxing and seated massage for the whole family from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 22, with all proceeds benefiting Compassion in Action-USA, a nonprofit corporation founded by Barbara Case that advocates for the disabled about their Social Security, SSI, Medi-Cal or Medicaid benefits.

Case is the power behind Compassion in Action, which offers its services free to anyone who asks, even from those out-of-state.

"The purpose of Compassion in Action — USA is to educate the public through public information meetings and provide individual advocacy efforts so that (anyone who needs help) can be helped," Case said. "We are ready to reach out with compassion and to take action for those who need it."

The China Clipper is at 620 W Route 66, Suite 104, in Glendora.

Anissa V. Rivera

Carmen is the owner and the "barber stylist." Appointments can be made with Carmen or the other stylists on staff by calling (626) 963-4845. Walk-ins will be accepted that day, but appointments are recommended.

Pricing for all of the available services can be received at the same number.

Refreshments will be available.

An information table and advocates from Compassion in Action will be available at the event if anyone has questions. For more information, call (626) 963-4845, visit www.compassioninaction.us or email info@compassioninaction.us.

Columnist Anissa V. Rivera can be reached at (626) 301-1461 or by e-mail at aniviv@yahoo.com or write to her care of the Highlanders, 1210 N. Azusa Canyon Road, West Covina, CA 91790.